

PIPPS is an airline industry-trusted tool for sales audit, interline audit, and proration.

- How can you use it?

Over 20 years of historical data

ACH and MPA proration functionality

Official ACH tool for disputes

Who's using PIPPS today?

- 61 customers

- More than 2,100 individual users

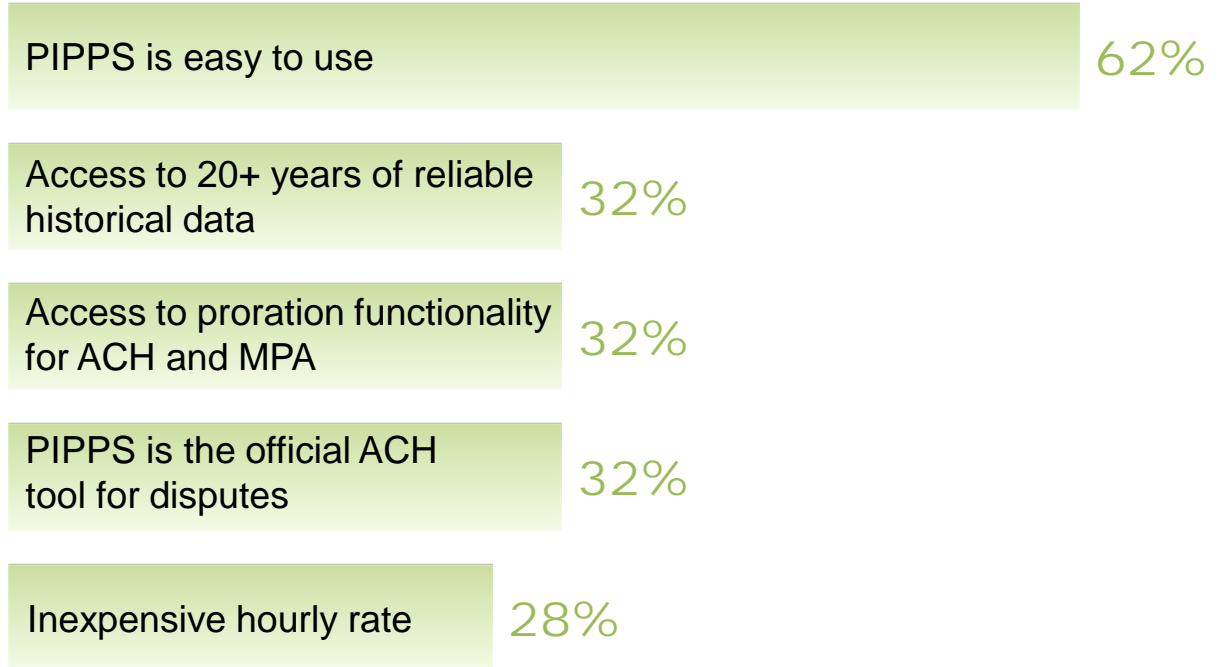

We asked what those users have to say about PIPPS.

32 people answered, from 17 airlines and all regions of the world

They told us what the most important attributes of PIPPS are.

They told us how they most often use the historical data PIPPS offers.

- Access historical data for sales and interline audit and proration purposes
- Verify pricing and fares to support interline settlement processes
- Determine historical settlement amounts to make pricing decisions
- Determine fare values for processing refunds
- Research and validate debit memos
- Look up day mean average exchange rates

Did you know PIPPS has more than 20 years of historical data?

- Fares and rules data, including surcharges
- Footnotes data
- Historical currency levels

They also use PIPPS for its proration functionality.

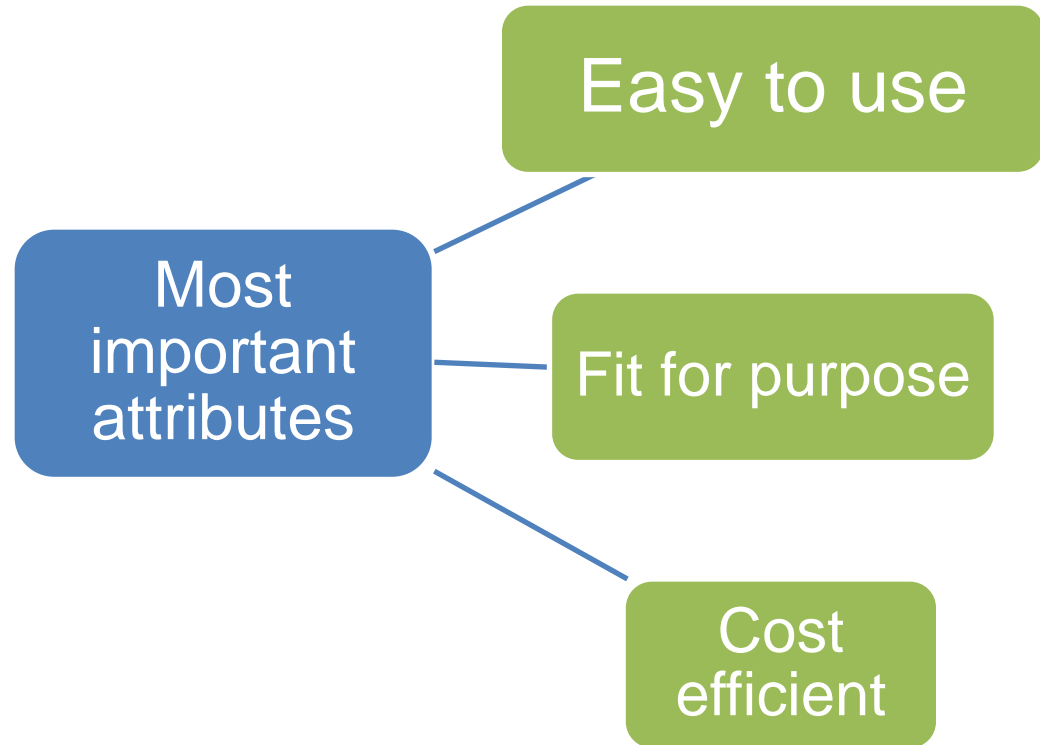

Did you know PIPPS features the variety of proration options?

- ACH methodology
- MPA methodology
- Special prorate agreements

- Use PIPPS as a primary proration tool
- Support or address interline settlement disputes
- Prorate transactions that could not be handled by automation
- Spot-check outsource providers on coupon value determination

Customers agree PIPPS serves them well:
62% of PIPPS users access it every day

What's next for PIPPS?

You asked for

- Education and training on existing features
- Better product documentation

ATPCO's Taking Action

- Updated documentation available now!
- Quick Start How-to Guide coming by 2Q14
- Product how-to videos
 - PIPPS for Historical Data available now!
- PIPPS for proration coming by 2Q14

Have questions or comments? Contact us at rev-accounting@atpco.net